

0	1
---	---

1

Plants can produce offspring (new plants) by sexual reproduction. Give the main points about offspring produced by sexual reproduction

[3 marks]

0	1
---	---

2

Spider plants can reproduce asexually. Give the advantages of spider plants being able to reproduce asexually.

[2 marks]

0	1
---	---

3

Explain why the malarial parasite, Plasmodium, reproduces sexually in a mosquito and asexually in a human

[4 marks]

0	1
---	---

4

Fungi have a tendency to reproduce asexually most of the time. However, there are situations where some fungi can also reproduce sexually. Describe how this occurs and explain why this occurs

[4 marks]
